Stipend payments are derived annually from small percentage allocations from race wagers, and a two cent per capita appropriation. The fund is divided between fairs according to the amounts they paid in premiums during the season.

Cowhegan State Fair is the top recipient this year with a $12,474.46 stipend to apply against $17,438.09 paid in premiums. The second highest recipient is the West Oxford Agricultural Society, which operates Fryburg Fair. $10,754.06 will be received against $14,033.23 paid in premiums.

State-Wide Opposition, 5-1, Defeats Fee Increase

Although the number of votes cast in Monday's referendum exceeded the highest estimates, less than one-fourth of the State's registered voters expressed an opinion.

Interested Bethel voters indicated an 8 to 1 disapproval of a boost of $1 in drivers' license fees and increases in car and truck registrations. Although in some places the referendum showed much more decisive opinions, Oxford County totals were more than 6 to 1 against the law and the State went about 5 to 1.

Reported figures are: Bethel, Yes 53, No 270; County, Yes 836, No 5,223; State, Yes 21,036, No 102,040. Opposition was led by John Gould of Lisbon Falls, who headed the Maine Car and Small Truck Owners Association. This group initiated the movement for signatures which invoked the referendum. Railroads and labor unions also opposed the increased fees. Those against the new law contended that the added revenue—nearly a million dollars yearly—is not needed, and when it may be needed should come from big truck owners.

The law was supported on the ground that it was the best immediate source of needed revenue for the State's highway program. It was backed by Governor Muskie and Chairman David Stevens of the highway commission, as well as by the Maine Truck Owners Association, Maine Good Roads Association and Maine Farm Bureau Association.

WILLIAM B. HALL

William B. Hall died March 7 in the home of his sister, Mrs. Winifred Hall Bartlett after a short illness, where he had lived for the past five years.

He was born at Solon, Maine, Dec. 25, 1872, the only son of the late Dana and Alfretha Clark Hall.

When a small boy, the family moved to Bethel where he was educated and where he lived a part of his married life.

Returning to Northern Maine, for many years he was employed as guide for guests at Spencer Lake Sporting Camps. Later he held the office as deputy sheriff of Somerset County. From then on he was care taker of a private camp on Upper Spencer, owned by the late Stuart Allen of Concord, Mass.

A man of unique character, frank spoken, a great gift of humor, one needed to know him well to understand his true worth, and sterling qualities. A philosopher of nature, he read extensively and of the best books. History was his study.

Besides the sister before mentioned he leaves two nephews, Harold Bartlett of Bethel, and Rodney Bartlett of Bangor.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home Monday afternoon conducted by Mrs. David Thompson, reader of Christian Science. Burial at Riverside Cemetery.

ACROSS the DESK

From the Ravenswood News, Ravenswood, W. Va.: A natural-born talker we know offered the following editorial as a public service. If it doesn't move you to immediate response, take a moment to worry about the guy who wrote the thing in the first place.

People don't worry enough. It all started when psychologists discovered worry. They said it made people overdraw their bank accounts and dial wrong numbers. All sorts of books were written showing people how to stop worrying. It's getting so you can't find a book that shows how to start worrying.

This is wrong. Worrying made this country great. Our forefathers worried all the time. Worrying built men. Worrying is fun. Worrying is the most subtle and complex mental exercise known to man. An experienced worrier can find things to worry about that nobody ever heard of.

In the interests of restoring worry to its proper place in American life, we suggest the following simple worries as practice. When you have mastered these you will be ready for Advanced Worry Household Worries.

That the baby will fall in the tub pond.

That you left a pink sock in the white wash.

That the neighbors are stealing the fruit.

Office Worries

That your assistant is after your job.

That the bookkeeper will discover a discrepancy in your expense account.

That somebody has already asked for the first two weeks in June for vacation.

In Bed At Night Worries (an excellent place for masterful worrying)

That the washbasin is overflowing.

That someone is jimmieing the back door.

That the alarm clock bell key is in the "off" position.

That the mattress has shifted to a 45 degree angle.

Miscellaneous Worries for Various Occasions

That the elevator cable will break.

That somebody in the opposite box seat is trying to hypnotize you.

That you are about to involuntarily kick your hostess in the shins.

That you are going to shout an obscene word in a crowded theatre.

SEN. PAYNE REPORTS

New Area Assistance Bill Introduced

In an effort to break the legislative deadlock on legislation to all chronically distressed areas, this week I introduced a compromise new "Area Economic Development Act." With unemployment at a critical stage in such areas as Hallowell-Bangor, it is mandatory that every effort be used to bring new sources of employment to such areas. The current economic slowdown has increased the problems of areas of chronic unemployment.

Under the provisions of the bill, loans, grants, and technical assistance would be made available to business suffering from consistently high unemployment conditions. The loans would be matched by local funds and would go toward purchases, rehabilitation, and improvement of industrial sites. Loans and grants would be made to communities for the construction of needed public facilities which would attract new sources of employment. Technical advice, counseling, and recommendations as to how possible new industries would be made available to these localities. In addition, the "development area" would get top priority on Federal urban renewal funds and Federal program contracts. This bill would offer material assistance to hard hit areas. It has been referred to the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency of which I am a member and it is my intention to press for early Committee approval in an effort to secure prompt passage by Congress.

Dairy Price Supports

Last week I wrote to Secretary of Agriculture Benson strongly recommending that dairy price supports not be cut from 85¢ to 75¢ on April 15 as there is a comparable cut in the price supports on feed grains. Over a third of all the milk produced in Maine would be affected by the contemplated cut in price support. The cut would mean a reduction of 10¢ per hundred weight on all milk marketed for manufactured dairy products such as cheese butter etc. Cutting dairy price supports without reducing price supports on feed grains would mean that dairy farmers will be reduced while costs of production will remain substantially high. This would place an extraordinary and unfair burden on Maine dairy farmers. If Secretary Benson does not act on the cut in dairy price supports to ease the burden on Maine dairy farmers, I will be forced to take action on April 15.

SAINT PATRICK

It is a story to be told what Saint Patrick did for Ireland. He was a man of God and he was a man of the world. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God.

He became an adopted son of the Irish people. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God. He was a man of the world and he was a man of God.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bethel, Maine
March 8, 1958

To the Editor of the Citizen:

While the pros and cons of adding hours are still fresh in the consciousness of our citizens, it seems pertinent to mention a factor which does not seem to have been emphasized sufficiently. I refer to the matter of the rights of the individual to control what he eats, drinks, wears, reads, and worships without someone saying, "I know what is best for you and you must do it my way." Granted the consensus of opinion of such a group, I say that it is not an element of thought which belongs to a democratic United States of America. I was convinced of the truth of John Stuart Mill's credo: "The only freedom which deserves the name is that of pursuing our own good in our own way, so long as we do not attempt to deprive others of theirs, or impede their efforts to obtain it."

There is no comparison between discrimination and discrimination. The former serves to destroy harmful organisms. Its basic effects are neutralized as a result of reactions with substances present in the water. The latter is toxic and is intended to remain in undiluted potency when it comes from the faucet, with an action designed for and confined to the body of the consumer.

I have before me a list of one hundred fifty names of doctors and dentists from every state in the Union, whose considered opinion is that the addition of fluorides to drinking water has been associated with incidences of definite cost of another land, and taken to Ireland by a band of pirates. He was sold as a slave, and became a water-bearer. After a number of years, he escaped, and made his way to Rome. He had one purpose in mind: to prepare himself as a missionary that he might return to Ireland to win the souls of that island to his own faith.

So successful was he that the day of his death March 17th became a national and international holiday. The "green" he drove out of Ireland were dried grasses.

We are told that Saint Patrick, as a young man was on board a ship which was captured by pirates. After passing a cannon he escaped to Rome. When he was released, he was told that every pirate there.

What made the difference between Patrick and Caesar? One thing makes the difference: Patrick was a man of God and Caesar was a man of the world. Patrick was a man of God and Caesar was a man of the world. Patrick was a man of God and Caesar was a man of the world.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, March 13

Read John 16:28-33.

In the world ye shall have tribulation; but he of good cheer; I have overcome the world. (John 16:33).

COME years ago, two of us were walking in the city of Nuremberg, Germany. A guide identified for us some of the historical buildings. He called our attention to the large St. Sebald Church. Over the door was a statue of Christ.

"You will notice," he said, "that Christ is there represented as a strong man; prominence is given to His strength. We like to think of Jesus as a strong Saviour as well as a teacher."

Thinking on that idea, I remembered that the power of Christ is available to each of us today, even in situations where there are problems too difficult for us to solve or burdens too heavy for us to carry. He promises us that He will be with us always, even unto the end of the world. He bids us not to be afraid of tribulations since He himself has overcome the world.

Prayer

We thank Thee, our Father, for the power offered to us in our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Help us to open our hearts to this power, that we may be able to withstand temptations and to be more than conquerors through Thy grace. We ask in Jesus' precious name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

HOW TO DRIVE

A tip from the AAA's driving guide for adults.
AT 50 MILES PER HOUR

No matter how alert you may be, no matter how good the condition of your car may be, you can't stop on a dime. At 50 miles per hour, you would flash past more than 800 times placed side-by-side, or 55 feet before you could even get your foot on the brake. The average person takes about three-fourths of a second to step on the brake after he sights danger. This is called reaction time, and it's a serious matter to a driver. Reaction time becomes measurably slower as you grow older, or if your physical condition is not up to par, or if you have had a drink or become tired. Only when you know how to adjust your speed to suit all conditions can you really say you know HOW TO DRIVE.

These gala festivities, sponsored by the Bethel P.T.A., will get under way at 8 p. m. at the Gould Academy field house. The more than two hours of fun and thrills promise to add up to a memorable evening.

The basketball hit matches the strongest lineups either team has boasted in years. The game should be replete with thrills, and the Trotters can be depended on to find time for the inevitable comedy and razzle dazzle ball handling wizardry built around Bob (Showboat) Hall, the peerless "Court Jester."

Stack Wayne of Chicago will referee the game. The added entertainment will include the sensational Parlas group of hand balancers from Havana, Cuba, who will do two separate acts; Jacques Cordon, the unicyclist tricycle par excellence from Brussels, Belgium; the Garners, trampolinists unsurpassed; and Kaploian Miller and Ethel Kuhn, hula dancers from the Hawaiian Islands.

REVISION OF FEDERAL TAX LAWS IS URGED BY NEW ENGLAND COUNCIL

The New England Council has urged the House Ways and Means Committee and Congress to enact four revisions of the Federal tax laws to help relieve the current economic pressures on small and medium-sized firms.

Allan H. W. Higgins, Boston corporate tax lawyer and chairman of the Tax and Fiscal Policy Committee of The New England Council, represented that organization before the Congressional Committee. Pointing out that small and medium-sized business frequently has to resort to buying used equipment, he recommended that the same accelerated depreciation formula be available to purchasers of used machines as are available to buyer of new equipment.

The New England Council's second resolution called for raising the present $25,000 exemption from the corporate surtax to $50,000 to enable small businesses to accumulate capital for expansion.

The third item covered by the NEC recommended that taxpayers be given the option of paying Federal estate taxes in their entirety, or in installments over a 10-year period. With 92 per cent of New England's firms in the small business category and many of them owned or controlled by one individual or a small group, the death of a principal frequently results in a forced sale of the controlling interest to permit settlement of the estate.

Repeal of all federal taxes on the transportation of goods and passengers also was urged by The New

FARM AND HOME WEEK PROGRAM PRINTED

Programs for the 31st annual Farm and Home Week are now off the presses at the University of Maine. They have been mailed to everyone who registered at last year's event. Others wishing a program in advance of Farm and Home Week, March 31 to April 3 may write to Prof. H. A. Leonard, Rogers Hall, University of Maine, Orono. This year's Farm and Home Week program is much smaller and more compact than in the past. It fits nicely in ladies' pocketbooks or men's coat pockets. The complete program for the week is listed from the opening sessions Monday evening through to the Farm and Home Week banquet and open house Thursday evening, April 2.

England Council spokesman. He pointed out that the 10 per cent tax on passenger fares and the 3 per cent tax on freight charges were World War II measures that still hit New England particularly hard since the region is on the perimeter of the country's transportation circle.
